Parliament Expected To Name Delegation For Talks With Moscow

Express Concern

Finland Has One Goal, to Retain Sovereignty

By AKE MALMSTROM
Helsinki, Finland, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Juho K. Paasikivi is expected by Tuesday to name a delegation to discuss with Moscow the friendship treaty requested by Prime Minister Stalin.

It seems likely the delegation will be headed either by Premier Mauno Pekkala or by Foreign Minister Carl Enckell, Russian-speaking diplomat of long experience in Moscow negotiations.

Persons close to the cabinet said the president, meanwhile, has asked parliamentary groups to tell him their attitude toward the proposed treaty by Tuesday.

The mood of the Finnish people seems resigned. Outwardly they are just preparing for another fine weekend, with skating championships as the main issue. But beneath the surface, the Finnish people are in a state of deep concern.

The general attitude thus far seems to be: this is not a Russian ultimatum, but a logical result of the strained international situation.

The decision is no easy one, since Finland has only one goal: to stabilize her position and retain her sovereignty, says the conservative newspaper Uusi Suomi.

But the Communist newspaper Tyokansan Sanomat declares: "Taking cover under a shroud of neutrality, Finland's bourgeois circles have for several years been bargaining their fatherland and their people to sell them for chauvinist and imperialist ends. It is obvious that these circles have got new impulses, since the old slogans and tricks are being used again. But this time they shall no longer deceive anybody."

A Moscow dispatch said no Soviet newspaper published anything on any Finnish subject today.

Concern Expressed
Political observers expressed concern over the Soviet move in view of the impending parliamentary elections, scheduled for July. This concern stems from the pattern set throughout eastern Europe in recent elections.

Suomen Sosialidemokratit, newspaper of the Social Democratic party, which has been anti-Moscow, reassessed its view that Finland should strive for neutrality in big-power conflicts.

The military-political position of the country is being re-evaluated.

Newkirk to Name City Committee on Getting Ball Team

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today announced his intention of appointing a citizens' committee to investigate the possibility of forming a semi-pro baseball team in this city.

In a statement to the Freeman by telephone this morning, the mayor said, "I am ever grateful to all the interested citizens that took part in trying to get Class B baseball for Kingston. Sorry I was unable to be at the last meeting, but I am sure the situation and I know that there are no stones left unturned to secure Class B ball for Kingston. Since the last meeting I am convinced that we should at least have semi-pro baseball and I will, in the near future, appoint a committee of interested citizens to investigate the possibility of forming a semi-pro team to operate as in the past."

A similar committee was appointed by Mayor Conrad J. Heiseman following the installation of the lighting system at the municipal stadium, and continued functioning through the 1946 season.

The original committee included the late Jack Robins and Addison Jones, Edmund Coughlin, Paul Zdeck, Nick Kaslich and Sidney G. Lutz, superintendent of recreation. Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor, served with the committee as booking manager until he entered service in 1943.

Carl Husta, basketball star, was the first manager of the Kingston Recreation and later was replaced by Joe Hoffmann. Others who joined the Recreation baseball committee in later years were Harry L. Edson, acting superintendent of recreation, and Bob Murray.

The Kingston Recreation was organized as an all-local unit and gradually developed with the aid of outside talent. It was a financial success until the outbreak of World War I.

Annabelle Buear Says America Is Lacking in Understanding of Soviets

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Feb. 28 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith says Miss Annabelle Buear, one of his staff who resigned yesterday, was remiss in not notifying him that she married a Russian baritone 13 months ago.

Under State Department regulations, Smith said, Miss Buear, a full blonde, should have notified the embassy of her marriage and immediately resigned.

Miss Buear, who is 33 and from Clinton, Pa., said she met her husband, Konstantin Lapshin, about 25, almost two years ago when she came to the Soviet Union to work in the U. S. Information Service. Lapshin sings with the Moscow Operetta Theatre.

Military Critics Favoring China Hear 1,000 Plane Plan Is in Force

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—A secret but once suspended agreement to arm China with 1,000 American warplanes is in full force again.

The administration let this be known today in reply to Congressional critics denouncing military aid for Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist armies, which are locked in battle with Communist forces.

At least 936 planes already have been transferred to China. Of the 135 listed last month as still due and ready for shipment, 37 are Flying Fortresses. In addition, the United States has trained 5,137 Chinese to man and service the planes.

Secretary of State Marshall, then President Truman's special envoy to China, called a halt to the program in August, 1946, when his efforts to stop the Chinese Civil War broke down.

The ban was relaxed gradually until Marshall lifted the final barrier to fulfillment of the air force program last December 16, it was disclosed last night.

Until then the only publicly announced military aid to China was

Senator Desmond Says He Might Try Again to Get Bill Passed for Newspapermen

Newburgh, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Executives of the Newburgh News and their attorneys today were studying whether an appeal could be taken in the case of two of the paper's employees who were sent to jail for declining to reveal confidential sources of information.

Douglas V. Clarke, 33 news editor, and Charles L. Leonard, 27, a reporter, yesterday were sentenced to 10 days in jail for refusing to disclose to a grand jury where they obtained "numbers" lottery tickets. The men also were fined $100, which they paid before going to jail.

The lottery tickets were reproduced in the paper in connection with a series of articles on alleged gambling and vice in the city. The "numbers" lottery involves the sale of tickets bearing a set of figures based on the daily U. S. Treasury balance.

Supreme Court Justice J. Gordon Flannery, in imposing the terms and fines, said he regretted having to pass sentence, but had no choice.

The newsmen said in a joint statement that "the code of ethics of the news profession, without statutory authority stipulates without compromise, that violation of a confidence is the gravest ethical omission of which a newspaperman can stand accused."

"We feel that we are bound to comply with the principle and to make any sacrifice to protect the lofty ideals of the newspaper profession."

Frank E. Gannett, president of the company which publishes the Newburgh News and other papers, said the "in standing firmly against demands to violate a confidence they (Clarke and Leonard) are acting in the best newspaper tradition. The Gannett Company will see that they lose nothing materially."

The action brought from Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith says Miss Annabelle Buear, one of his staff who resigned yesterday, was remiss in not notifying him that she married a Russian baritone 13 months ago.

Southern State Democrats Plan Further Offensive

Developments Point to Intraparty Strife as Anti-Poll Tax Bill Clears Committee

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Southern Democrats mapped further offensives today against President Truman and his civil rights program.

Although the congressional battlefront was momentarily quiet, these developments pointed to intensified intraparty strife:

1. The Mississippi Democratic Executive Committee called a special meeting Monday to consider a headquarters site for the "true white Jeffersonian" Democratic movement. Representatives of eight southern states banded in this drive already have contributed $61,500 towards a $100,000 war chest.

2. The Southern Governors' Conference was summoned to meet in Washington March 13 to hear a special committee's report on the civil rights fight. National Party Chairman J. Howard McGrath refused to yield to the committee's request Monday that President Truman withdraw his proposals.

The governors will meet the day after McGrath confers with a newly appointed executive committee of the Democratic National Convention.

Although this group has been named to "implement the operations" of the national convention, the status of the southern Democrats presumably will not be overlooked. On the committee are such party stalwarts as Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, David L. Lawrence of Indianapolis and former National Chairman Edward J. Flynn, of New York.

To Renew Fight
Democratic rebels in Congress meanwhile prepared to renew their fight next week against enactment of anti-lynching and anti-poll tax legislation. Both of these are part of President Truman's civil rights plan.

Approved by a Senate Rules Subcommittee yesterday, the anti-poll tax bill was scheduled for prompt clearance by the full committee early next week. Republicans head by Governor Charles McNamara of Tennessee, Tuesday rejected a demand by Senator Stennis (D-Miss.) for public hearings in the seven southern states which require a voter to pay a tax before he can cast his ballot.

Meanwhile two southerners spoke out against the move launched by Governor Byrd of Virginia to bar Mr. Truman's name from state ballots.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) denounced it as a "brazen" attack on the voters' freedom of choice. He said in a statement that this move would give voters "a little group of party bosses" rather than the people themselves.

And Democratic Gov. Earle Clements of Kentucky told a reporter in Frankfort he has no intention of asking his General Assembly to eliminate the names of pro-segregation candidates from the state ballots.

Eastern Tractor Offers Stock to Local Investors

Next Red Victim?

Reliable reports from Helsinki say President Juho K. Paasikivi (above) has received a letter from Joseph Stalin proposing a pact of friendship and mutual assistance between Russia and Finland. Finland is one of the few Russian neighbors not yet fully under Communist yoke.

Local Concern Now Has 20,000 Square Feet in Four Locations About the City

In line with its recently announced policy to promote Kingston not only by bringing new industry into the city, but by assisting wherever possible those industries already established here, the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce met with the executive committee of Eastern Tractor at a dinner meeting on Tuesday evening, February 24.

The purpose of the meeting, according to Lou Stokette, president of the Chamber was to determine if possible whether or not there was any background in the rumors which have been rife throughout the city that Eastern was contemplating moving from this city because of its inability to obtain proper production facilities here.

Mr. Stokette explained that Mr. Carroll and his associates had been invited to the meeting generally to discuss their problems and attempt to determine how the Chamber could assist in solving them.

Mr. Stokette introduced J. J. Carroll, president of Eastern, who described the background of the management, history of the corporation and future expansion plans.

Eastern's sales from January 1, 1945 to September 30, 1947, according to Mr. Carroll amounted to over $2,700,000. Representing 12,112 tractor units the majority of which have been sold in New York, New England and Pennsylvania to farmers, suburbanites, factories, municipalities, hotels, transportation companies and numerous other consumers.

Sales in 1947 amounted to more than $1,900,000. Projected sales for 1948 are estimated at approximately $2,000,000. Earnings of the corporation in 1947 were $5.92 per share of common stock outstanding.

Since its establishment here in 1945 Eastern has increased its facilities from approximately 6000 square feet located in the building on St. James street to 20,000 square feet in four locations about the city.

Outside Kingston, Mr. Carroll reported, Eastern has established assembly plants, warehouses and sales offices at Olympia, Wash., Pontiac, Mich., and Alexandria, Va. All of the fabricated parts used in the assembly operations in all cities are made in the Kingston plants.

Gardenaid products have been shipped in quantity into every state and into over 20 foreign countries.

The recently reported acquisition of Eddy Pile Works at Greenwich, N. Y., will serve further to integrate Gardenaid's production. Mr. Carroll stated because Eastern is now in a position to manufacture most of the implements for Gardenaid tractors which previously had to be purchased from other sources.

In order to consolidate its activities to date and provide adequate financing for conservative healthful growth in the future, Mr. Carroll informed the members of the Chamber who were present that Eastern is offering to sell its investors $50,000 of its capital stock both 6 per cent cumulative.

Venezuela Impressed by U. S. Good Will, Gottfried Says

Back from an official navy visit to Caracas, Venezuela, to take part in the inauguration of newly elected President Romulo Gallegos, Lieut. Commander Herman E. Gottfried, counsel for the New York Board of Water Supply in civilian life, reports the South American country "highly impressed by this evidence of good will on the part of the United States."

Having earned his commission during World War 2, Lieut. Commander Gottfried, since returning to civilian life, is counsel in charge of the Water Supply Division, New York City Water Department, with a local office on Wall street.

Commander Gottfried received his orders from the Navy Department on February 3 ordering him to report to the U. S. S. Saipan, an aircraft carrier, on February 6 at New York. He did not learn of the destination of the ship until February 8, when it was two days out to sea.

At that time, it was announced that the ship was en route to Caracas, Venezuela, to represent the United States Government in connection with the inauguration of President Gallegos, Caracas is only eight miles by air from La significant because the new president is the first popularly elected president of Venezuela.

The skipper of the ship was Capt. Robert W. Morse, USN, from Binghamton, who performed his duties in an outstanding manner.

MacLeish Aboard
Archibald MacLeish was aboard to represent the United States as minister and special envoy to the inauguration. He served six years as librarian in the Library of Congress and was also an assistant secretary of state.

Enroute to Caracas, air exercises were conducted by this vessel just prior to entering Mont Passage near Puerto Rico. Thirty-six airplanes were flown off the deck of the carrier without any mishaps. Three of these ships were catapulted from only a distance of 50 feet on the flight deck. The planes made simulated attacks on the U. S. S. Saipan which included dropping of bombs, strafings and torpedo attacks. The planes were recovered without incident.

The inauguration ceremonies began February 13 when the vessel arrived at La Guaira, which is the port city of Caracas. Caracas is only eight miles by air from La

Crash Occurs 3:30 a. m. on Foxhall Avenue; Driver Was Alone in Car at Time Pinned in Seat

Patrolmen, Ambulance Driver Remove Man From Behind Wheel

A Lake Katrine man was severely injured about 3:30 a. m. today when his car struck a telephone pole on Foxhall avenue near the intersection of Flatbush avenue, the police reported.

Robert Ryno, 28, who lives on the Neighborhood Road at Lake Katrine, was still in the front seat of his car on the arrival of Patrolmen Kenneth Hyatt and Leonard Ellsworth, who were dispatched after word of the accident was received at police headquarters. He was removed by patrolmen and John Weber, a Conner's ambulance driver, and was taken to Kingston Hospital in the ambulance.

After examination, hospital authorities reported his condition as "fair" and said he has a possible concussion of the brain.

The car, a 1946 Studebaker sedan, was badly damaged, the left front being pushed in which prevented the removal of Ryno until the front seat was removed, police reported.

According to Patrolman Hyatt, the car was proceeding south on Foxhall avenue at the time of the accident. Ryno was alone in the car, and no other vehicles were involved, police said. The pole which was struck was on the driver's right hand side.

Because Ryno was in an unconscious condition, police were unable to determine the cause of the accident. He was examined at the hospital by Dr. Sidney C. Pauker, who was called by the police.

Ryno is single and lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ryno. He is employed at Hercules Powder Company in Port Ewen.

700 Reds Arrested

Athens, Feb. 28 (AP)—Some 700 Communists and members of the Communist organization "Self-defense" were arrested today in Athens, Greece.

Those found guilty of helping the guerrillas or being dangerous to public security will be committed for trial by a military tribunal or referred to the security committee for a decision upon their punishment.

The arrests were in line with a recent decision to clear cities and towns of dangerous elements, it was said.

Children to Lose 'Pop' Fuhrman as Art, Craft Teacher

Alexander S. Fuhrman announced today that he left his position as arts and crafts instructor with the Department of Recreation in this city Friday afternoon. He told The Freeman that his reason for leaving was the fact that there is no provision for his salary in the 1948 Board of Public Works budget.

Since January 1 of this year, Fuhrman has been continuing with the recreation department on a temporary basis on a reduced salary.

Better known among the children of the city as "Pop," Fuhrman came to this city four years ago from New York and joined the Department of Recreation in the early part of 1946. He is the founder of the Kingston Boys' Clubs, and said that he would voluntarily continue to give his free time to these clubs.

At present the only boys' club which is active is the Clinton Avenue Boys' Club, which will begin operations for the season on March 15. The downtown club, which last summer acquired a building on Wilbur avenue, is awaiting the installation of electricity in the building. Fuhrman has plans for the establishment of two more clubs in the city, if conditions permit.

According to Fuhrman, the boys' clubs are financed solely by contributions and by projects carried on by the boys themselves, and are not subsidized by the city.

In leaving his position, Fuhrman said that he was not dissatisfied with the management of the department, and said that Harry L. Edson, acting superintendent, "is the best man I've ever worked under." He said he enjoyed the work with children, and the move was prompted solely by the need for a better paying job.

State Teachers College News

New Paltz, Feb. 27.—Dr. William J. Haggerty and Dr. Roland G. Will attended several meetings of the annual education conference held in Atlantic City, N. J., from February 18 to February 27. The purpose of the conference was for the educators of the state to get together for discussion and to exchange ideas at least once a year. It was the largest meeting held by any educational group in the country, the report said.

Miss Janice Kenik, the first student to graduate from New Paltz with the certificate in early childhood education, has accepted a position as a teacher in the Betsy Ross Nursery School of New Haven, Conn. This nursery school set up to serve the children of Yale faculty and students, serves as a school for student teaching used by Yale and New Haven State Teachers College. Dr. Francis L. Jig, co-author with Dr. Arnold Gessell of the "Child from Five to Ten," serves as a consultant for the school. Although Miss Kenik was the first to graduate with the nursery certificate, there are 60 students in the early childhood education course at New Paltz.

Dr. Howard Mosher represented the college at a meeting of the board of directors of New York Association of State Teachers Colleges faculties held at the Edwitt Clinton Hotel in Albany early in February. The board consisted of one member from each of the 11 colleges. The meeting was held to discuss progress of the revised salary schedule submitted by this board to the commission of education last fall. If passed, the new salary schedule would place the state teachers colleges, will replace the present salary schedule which started in 1928. There also was a discussion of another meeting to be held at Lake Placid October 7 and 8. This is to take in the entire faculty of the state teachers colleges totalling about 800 people. The discussion will be on salary revision, a masters degree program, general expansion of the teachers colleges and speculation about a state university.

The college community chorus will give a concert in the Episcopal Hink Clinton Avenue Methodist Church in Kingston, on Monday, March 22 under the direction of Miss Marion Harding, leader. The concert is being sponsored by the W.C.S. of the church.

Miss Colburn and Dr. Curson attended a meeting of social science instructors from the state teachers colleges in New York last week.

Dr. William Haggerty gave a commencement address before the International Business Machines Corp. School last Wednesday. His topic was "Sense of Responsibility."

At a recent assembly period the New Paltz Players presented the one-act drama, "The Valiant." This was the first play in a series to acquaint people with the various types of drama.

Robert St. John, the well-known foreign correspondent and news commentator, will appear in New Paltz, Monday, March 1, at 8:30 p. m. He spent the major part of 1947 on a European trip that took him back to a great many of the countries he covered during his career as a war correspondent.

Thespians of the college met Wednesday to discuss the prospects of giving the three-act play "Outward Bound" on March 19. However, it was decided there would not be enough time to prepare the play and therefore the players will present two or three one-act plays on March 19. New Paltz has been appointed one of the United Nations correspondent centers and the U.N. speakers center. The purpose of the correspondence centers is to answer inquiries concerning the U.N. The center also distributes material about the U. N. for anyone studying the body. Kits of material are available by writing to the correspondence center. The speakers center serves much the same purpose. It was established for the convenience of people who wish to speak on the U. N. Extension kits of information are available for speakers by contacting the college.

The week of February 19-21 was stressed as "World Unity Week" at the college for the purpose of thinking about world problems on an international level. Each student as a prospective teacher and as a citizen has a special part to play in those affairs if peace is to be secured, stated the Student Federalist Chapter members of the U.W.F., who sponsored the world unity drive. In cooperation, the Debate Club chose as its topic "World Government." The library bulletin board called attention to the current books on the subject of science and the atom bomb, world problems and human relations. A special shelf of these books was placed at the front of the library. Tuesday evening the townspeople interested in working for a greater unity and promoting a world of law and order met in the social room of the college and several members of the faculty also were present. Lawrence Fuchs, who spoke in the assembly during the day, was one of the speakers. Students from Vassar and Bennington College Federalist Chapters met with the New Paltz student chapter in the college Wednesday afternoon and were later entertained at dinner at the Old Fort. The Student Federalists believe that "peace is not merely the absence of war but the presence of justice, of law, of order—in short of government and the institutions of governments. They believe that 'world peace can be created and maintained only under a world federal government, universal and strong enough to prevent armed conflict between nations.' The Federalists support the efforts of the United Nations but believe that it must be amended into a world government and if that cannot be done in time to prevent a fatal World War 3, the participation in world constitutional assemblies seeking to produce the drafting of world constitutions seems to be the alternative, it was stated.

Jury Refuses to Indict Mother in Strangling

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP)—Court action to place Muriel Ostrowsky in a mental institution was started yesterday after a Champaign county grand jury refused to indict the 20-year-old University of Illinois co-ed in connection with the strangling of her new born baby.

State Attorney John J. Breese, in accordance with recommendations by the grand jury, filed a petition in county court that she be committed to a mental institution.

Breese said the unwed junior student from Lawrence, N. Y., told him she strangled the infant shortly after it was born February 20 in her rooming house "to save her family from disgrace." Breese said she related she did not know whether the baby was born dead or alive. After her landlady insisted that she go to a hospital the infant's body was found in a laundry bag in her room. The child's father was identified by Miss Ostrowsky only as a University of Illinois student from Chicago.

Benes' Decision May Have Prevented Third World War

(Editor's Note: Dr. Stefan Ossusky, who wrote the following comment on the Czechoslovakian crisis, was a close collaborator of Thomas Masaryk in establishing the Czechoslovak republic in 1918. He says he is the only intimate colleague of the republic's first president now outside the Iron Curtain. He represented the country in London in 1918 and later, for 20 years, was minister to France. During World War 2, Dr. Ossusky was minister of state in the Czechoslovakian government-in-exile. He now teaches European history and culture at Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.)

By DR. STEFAN OSSUSKY
(Written for The Associated Press)
Tragic though it is for the Czechoslovak people, the Communist coup climaxed by Dr. Eduard Benes' decision to sanction and collaborate with the newly-formed Communist government of Klement Gottwald may well be the act which prevents a third world war.

The tragedy of Czechoslovakia today is the final proof that the Soviet Union is seeking something more than her own national security and friendly governments around her.

As a result, I believe this tragedy will bring the western European nations and the United States into closer cooperation and thus frustrate Soviet Russia and the Communist plans to dominate Europe.

Therein lies the only salvation for Czechoslovakia, Europe and the peace.

As far as the decision of Dr.

Benes to take the oath of the Communist cabinet is concerned, I feel it was as much of a disaster for the Czechoslovak people as the act of force accomplished by Klement Gottwald.

Dr. Benes, it must be remembered, was the symbol of liberty of which Czechoslovakia was born. The moral, spiritual and intellectual confusion into which the Czechoslovak people are plunged as a result of his decision is more grave for them than the political confusion which would have resulted from his refusal to sanction Gottwald's act of force.

Dr. Benes' capitulation will lead to undermining all resistance of the Czechoslovak people to Communist dictatorship for the present.

Only the protests of the United States, Great Britain and France will convince them that they are not abandoned.

From the protests will come new hope and eventual freedom.

Although I decry Dr. Benes' decision to approve the new government and take it oath, I believe that Russia will be unable to maintain control over Czechoslovak for more than a year or two. Russia is weaker than the world knows.

I am convinced that she really does not want war. She is just using the acts of force we have seen to give an impression, but she doesn't have the manpower to maintain control for long over all the countries she is infiltrating.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, Feb. 28.—Thomas E. Terwilliger, 43, of Middletown, a native of Ellenville, is believed to have been instantly killed Saturday afternoon when his car went out of control on Denton hill, south of Middletown and collided with an approaching car containing two West Point cadets, according to state police reports.

The cadets were removed to the cadet hospital at West Point and it is said will recover from their injuries. Terwilliger, a Middletown restaurant owner and former policeman, was born in Ellenville January 29, 1905, a son of the late Alfred B. Terwilliger and his wife, Lila Rich Terwilliger. The latter now residing in Middletown, besides his mother he is survived by his wife, Mary V. Ceraldi Terwilliger, two daughters, two sons, a sister and one grandchild. He had resided in Middletown for 25 years.

The town has been given a quota of $2,200, while the county as a whole is expected to contribute $34,400, an increase of 25 per cent over last year.

Report of the appraisal of the estate of the late Judge William D. Cunningham of Scarsdale, by the State Transfer Tax Department, shows a gross estate of $233,385, with net value of $148,385. The estate goes to the widow, Ettina McMullen Cunningham of Scarsdale. There is $69,000 in real estate, with five properties in Ellenville and one at 67 Wurts street, Kingston. Judge Cunningham, a native of Ellenville, died October 15, 1943, aged 63 years. He served as assemblyman, district attorney and in 1915 was appointed a judge of the Court of Claims in 1922 to devote his time to law.

Terrifies Maid, Steals $21,000 in Cash, Gems

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—A thief entered the Bronx home of Albert Okin at 2649 Davidson avenue yesterday, bound a terrified maid with adhesive tape, and made away with cash and gems valued at $21,000.

Theresa Bertoldi, 65, told police she was alone in the house about noon when she answered a knock on a rear door. A man entered and told her to "keep quiet or I'll shoot you—I'll kill you!"

He pushed her to the living room, bound her ankles and wrists with tape, then took out a heavy wooden mallet and chisel he had been carrying.

The man went directly to an antique chest, smashed it open and pocketed jewels, valued at $15,000 belonging to Mrs. Okin. He moved an artificial fireplace away from the wall and used the mallet and chisel to remove about 30 bricks. From the opening he took a metal box which Okin said contained $8,000 in cash.

Okin owns the Saxon Brand Oil and Fats Company in Brooklyn. He told police he sometimes kept as much as $70,000 in firm receipts behind the fireplace.

China Economy Demanded

Nanking, Feb. 28 (AP)—China's 96 trillion yuan budget for the first half of 1948 was approved today by the legislative yuan, but the law-making body sternly demanded government economies. Ninety-six trillion of China's dollar dollars amount to about $320,000,000 on the black market and about twice that U. S. figure by official exchange rates. The yuan has plummeted from 3,000 to $1 to more than 300,000 to $1 in 18 months.

she felt further work with the embassy would be "incompatible with my present views."

In her letter of resignation Miss Bucar said she had acquired a real understanding of the Russians. She said the policy of the U. S. embassy "is directed against these people."

In the U. S. Information Service Miss Bucar did some work on a Russian-language magazine titled "Amerika."

The text of her letter of resignation follows:

"My Dear Mr. Ambassador:
"Please accept herewith my resignation effective of this date. The following will explain my action:

Cites Misunderstanding

"During the time I spent in the Soviet Union I became aware of many aspects of Soviet life. It became apparent to me that many Americans are not sufficiently acquainted with the life of the Soviet people. There is a lack of objective understanding of their strivings and ideas.

"Too often we are influenced by reactionary individuals who do their utmost to create dissension and misunderstanding between the American and Soviet peoples.

"During my sojourn in the Soviet Union I have given careful consideration to all factors involved and I came to the following conclusion—that now I have a real understanding of the country and its fine people who are doing their utmost toward making the world a better place to live in.

Against Her Views

"Knowing well that the policy of the embassy is directed against these people, I consider further work in the embassy incompatible with my present views, therefore I am leaving the embassy and remaining in Russia.

"This decision has also been influenced by the fact that I found my personal happiness here by falling in love with a Russian.

"The reasons for my decision have been stated above and I am happy I have courage to start life anew in this country.

"Respectfully,
"Annabelle I. Bucar."

Family Disapproves

In Clairton, a sister, Mrs. Emily Balch, said: "It sounds like she's turned Russian on us. We don't approve of it."

Another sister, Mrs. Mary Louise Coyne, said Miss Bucar had telephoned her family Thursday about her marriage in Russia. "I don't think anyone minds if she stays there," Mrs. Coyne said.

Miss Bucar's father, Ivan, a farmer and small coal operator, said his daughter had left home against his wishes because she wanted to see the world. He said he had not heard from her since she left in 1946.

Miss Bucar was born in Trafford, Pa. Her parents were born in what is now Yugoslavia. She is a University of Pittsburgh graduate.

State Department officials in Washington said Embassy reports had described her as an efficient worker.

Father Incensed

Pittsburgh, Feb. 28 (AP)—The father of Annabelle Irene Bucar, ex-University of Pittsburgh co-ed who announced her marriage to a Russian singer and quit her U. S. Embassy job, said today: "I won't let her come home."

"I cannot understand her leaving the best country in the world," declared Ivan Bucar, 51, a farmer of nearby Jefferson township. "I don't approve of her becoming Russian and I don't approve of Russia."

40th Birthday of First Orange Ad

The orange and the newspaper get together in Des Moines this week for an Iowa-wide celebration of their first meeting forty years ago, when a historic full-page advertisement in the Des Moines Register gave the orange a flying start toward its present universal popularity at the national table.

The Governor of the state, the Mayor, City Council and leading merchants of Des Moines are participating in the celebration, which will include a visit by the Queen of the National Orange Show, being staged this week in Los Angeles. The affair reaches its climax with the luncheon of the Des Moines Advertising Club on Tuesday, March 9, at which Russell Z. Eller, advertising manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, will deliver the main address.

The inspiration for the celebration in Des Moines goes back to March 2, 1908 when the Fruit Growers Exchange first employed the services of newspaper advertising to bring home to the American family the value of the orange as a part of our daily diet. Troubled by increasing production and lagging consumption, the directors of the Exchange decided, with considerable hesitation, to risk $50,000 in advertising their fruit. They chose the state of Iowa as the proving-ground for the soundness of their decision, and the Des Moines Register as the medium to spearhead their newspaper advertising drive. A full-page advertisement—at that time a sensational amount of space to devote to a single product—was used as a starter. Other ads appeared at regular intervals to persuade Iowans to use more oranges, with the result that by the end of the year consumption of oranges in Iowa had increased some 50 per cent over the preceding year, while the national increase averaged only 17 per cent.

Advertising became a permanent Exchange activity then, and in the intervening years the Growers comprising the famous cooperative marketing organization have spent more than $43,000,000 to advertise their oranges, lemons and grapefruit—three once exotic foods that have long since become staples.

Eisler Compromises on Tax, Will Fly to Rome Monday

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Hanns Eisler, Hollywood composer charged with being an alien Communist, will fly to Rome on Monday following an income tax "compromise" with the Federal Government, his attorney disclosed yesterday.

The German-born Eisler was granted the flight permit after the government attached music royalties due him from the American Society of Composers, authors and publishers, the attorney, Mrs. Carl King, said.

Eisler and his wife, Louise, will travel on a Czechoslovakian passport obtained "months ago," Mrs. King declared.

Eisler said the government claimed Eisler owed it $1,800 as a result of allegedly incorrect deductions on tax returns back to 1945. But officials agreed to reduce the sum by $500, she said, adding that Eisler had arranged to pay $125 every three months from the royalties.

"There was no question of fraud or concealment," Mrs. King said. "The returns had never been questioned before."

The government recently halted deportation proceedings against the composer when he agreed to leave the country voluntarily.

Drina Found Injured

Prague, Feb. 28 (AP)—A former minister of justice, Dr. Prokop Drtina, was found severely injured in front of his Prague villa today, police announced. They said a letter was found which indicated Dr. Drtina had tried to kill himself by jumping from a window. He is in a hospital with head injuries, but it is not clear if further complications do not set in, the official announcement said. Dr. Drtina was one of three cabinet ministers who were intended victims of intercepted bombs last September. He is a close friend of President Eduard Benes.

Fenders, Tires Protection

San Francisco, Feb. 28 (AP)—There's a new gadget to keep you from marring your fenders or white sidewall tires when parking. It is an electrical signal that buzzes when the car is within four and a half inches of the curb. When the signal coil touches the curb or any other obstacle a buzzer warns the driver that the car is within four and a half inches of the curb.

Pilot Averts Accident

San Francisco, Feb. 28 (AP)—A veteran pilot, sensing something amiss with his landing gear, halted the takeoff of his Pan-American Airways Clipper last night and the four-engine aircraft cracked up and caught fire on the runway. None of the passengers on the Honolulu and Calcutta bound plane was injured. C. V. George, pilot of the crippled skystrider, said he noticed his landing gear was not retracting properly on takeoff.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING

Kingston will have a city-wide Christmas lighting project again next winter, and rightly so. The 1947 decoration were so effective, that $313.04 left in the fund to pay for them has been earmarked for another Yule display.

According to a report from the Kingston Chamber of Commerce the festoons were not only decorative but helped attract many shoppers to the city, thus benefiting merchants and those who cater to the public in various ways.

The $7,627.63 paid out for Christmas lighting and decorations was money well spent, it has been agreed. Storekeepers know it, and probably will get behind the next project with even more zest than they did this winter.

When the business people show such a lively interest in the community, others follow. Everybody is imbued with the Christmas spirit and the result is a buying wave that makes the cash register bells tinkle as well as the little chimes in the hands of the store Santa Claus.

Byron S. Chatham, chairman of the Commerce Lighting Committee, and his co-workers deserve a lot of credit for their grand accomplishment.

OLD-FASHIONED ORATORY

What has become of the old-fashioned political orators who held their audiences spellbound and whose perorations school-children learned by heart? Bryan was about the last of the tribe, but in his palmy days and before him oratory was one of the commonest of achievements among public men.

The question arises from a new book, "Bourke Cockran, Free Lance in American Politics", by James McGurkin, president-general of the American Irish Historical Society. Cockran was a New York congressman off and on from 1887 to his death in 1923, and a lawyer whose clients included Tom Mooney, who served a long term of imprisonment on the charge of dynamiting Cockran's great fame, however, came from his matchless tongue. His convention speeches against Grover Cleveland's nomination in 1884 and 1892 were quoted all over the United States. Had he not had a reputation for instability, his eloquence might have won him almost any office.

Why has he left no successors? Radio may be one reason; it gives no scope for the impressive presence and sweeping gestures which are part of the stock of most platform orators. The substitution of the party primary for the old-time convention has taken away one of the orator's chief fields. Yet neither explanation goes more than a little way. Why are there now so few great pulpit orators?

ENGLAND'S MONEY

Great Britain finds some hope for a happy solution of her money troubles in the drop in commodity prices in the United States. One of Britain's financial headaches is the diminishing reserve of dollars and any downward trend in the prices of commodities England buys here will help to bolster that supply.

There is another fundamental ailment besetting Britain in the international market. Of the major trading nations Britain is the only one still clinging to an officially pegged rate of exchange for its money. The devaluations of Russian and French currencies increased the pressure on Britain to take a similar step with the pound, which is held by the government at a fixed rate of exchange with the United States dollar, the French franc and other currencies. Economists say this official rate places a higher value on the pound than it would have in a free market.

Britain's hope is to avoid the repercussions of an arbitrary devaluation of the pound. A drop in the dollar prices of goods would help to extend the time Britain has to set her economic house in order.

THE SOUTHERN REVOLT

Politicians are more concerned with Henry Wallace's Third Party than they are over the revolt of the Southern Democrats only because the Southerners have grumbled for 16 years but have voted true to the faith. Both Northern Democrats and Republicans discount the Southerners on the general assumption that in the end they will be true blue and will stand by Harry Truman in whom they have lost faith and for whom they have no respect. They have, as a matter of fact, sold themselves into political bondage by unrestrained loyalty to a party that ignores them.

Certainly, it is not merely a question of White Supremacy. Carter Glass, Jack Garner, Harry Byrd of Virginia, Huey P. Long, Joseph P. Kamp of Massachusetts and even the redoubtable Jim Farley, have on occasion, rebelled, but in the end, most of them return to the fold. That is precisely why the South, without which the Democratic Party would cease to exist, has lost its influence in Washington. The Big City Bosses, the New Dealers, the Hillman Laborites and the Communists have always figured that it did not matter what the Southerners said, they would always vote for papa. They always have.

This is a dangerous situation for any part of the country to get into, for it nullifies representation. Senator Byrd, for instance, should, by intellect, personality and character, be the leader of the Senate, but he has always abdicated leadership for party regularity even when his party stood for everything he opposed. On many occasions, I have discussed this with Jim Farley, who, knowing from the inside how abominable some of Roosevelt's acts were, nevertheless went along with the party, ostensibly voting for what he not only privately but publicly opposed. Now that he has written a book telling us he is being coerced because he has become independent. Such Southern Democrats as Jesse Jones and Bernard Baruch invariably suffer from a similar loyalty, both compromising the inviolability of individual conscience for straight party adherence. (Jones once said that he had voted against William Jennings Bryan.)

These Southerners would have been a powerful brake on the New Deal had they asserted themselves at the polls as they did in private or even public speech. For it is the polls that count. True, some of them revolted against the nomination of Al Smith on the publicly pronounced basis of acknowledged religious bigotry. True, they fought the Court packing. But they could not have Roosevelt's spiteful and humiliating appointments. True, some of them have combined with Republicans in matters of taxation and labor legislation; but when it came to voting, they voted for the Third Term and the Fourth Term—which most of them opposed in principle. Harry Truman believes that they will vote for him no matter what he does or says. Nothing absolutely nothing could be more beneficial to the United States than the breaking up of the Solid South. The Civil War is over; it can well be forgotten politically. Most Southern Democrats are in mind and experience closer to the Northern Republicans than they are to the Communists, Socialists, social workers and professors who constitute Byrd's closer to Senator Taft than he is to Senator Glen Taylor.

As a matter of fact, both parties could benefit by a shifting of party relationships. From that standpoint, Henry Wallace's People's Party may even serve a useful purpose. It may attract to itself Republicans as well as Democrats who no longer really belong to either party. Senator Glen Taylor voted himself out of the Democratic Party altogether correctly. He does not belong there and has, as a matter of fact, never been happy there. He will now be in a party more to his liking. There are Republicans who feel as he does and they should go along with him.

The Southerners if they voted independently on the issues of the day and not on the basis of party loyalty. For loyalty should be to the Constitution of the United States and to one's private conscience, not to an ephemeral institution as a party of shifting personalities and principles.

That Body of Yours

VITAMIN A IN TREATMENT OF PIMPLES

I never have forgotten a boy who sat near me in high school, his face covered with pimples. The feeling of the rest of the boys was that he did not wash himself thoroughly.

I blamed his pimples on the fact that he didn't engage in football, baseball or other games because I felt that this would "clean out" his blood. At that time, there was no known cure for acne (pimples), except that patients were told they would grow out of it before they were 30 and that they should not eat candy or pastry. The pimples came in the age of puberty (12 to 14 in girls, 14 to 16 in boys) and would disappear after girls and boys emerged into womanhood and manhood.

That sex gland extract is a factor has been shown by injecting the extract into a boy with a clear skin, which caused pimples.

Now that pimples can be removed by various methods, there is no need for the majority of these patients to suffer the inferiority complex it usually causes.

I have spoken of the various methods of treatment—X-ray, viosterol, injection of pituitary extract, thyroid extract by mouth and the use of vitamin A by mouth or by injection.

An epidemic of skin ailments in Holland, including a number of cases of pimples (blackheads or comedones), is reported by Drs. W. J. Grohmann and G. W. Beeling of the University of Groningen. The epidemic was thought to be caused by the use of cosmetics; but in 13 cases of acne treated, none of the patients used cosmetics. These physicians thought that the patients had not been receiving enough vitamin A in their food, and decided to try vitamin A in foods, ointments and other preparations. The results were very satisfactory.

An epidemic of comedones (blackheads) occurred during the war in France, also when vitamin A foods were scarce.

Some months ago I mentioned the use of vitamin A in acne, as reported by seven research workers. Foods rich in vitamin A are: cornmeal, bananas, butter, raw carrots, cheese, eggs, green lettuce, peaches, peas, sweet potatoes, fresh prunes, salmon, squash, tomatoes.

Acne—Pimples

Acne (pimples) is one of the most embarrassing and distressing of ailments. Send today for Dr. Barton's helpful booklet on this subject entitled "Acne—Pimples," enclosing 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 90, Station C, New York 19, N. mayor of a big city, and now he is running again.

The interesting fact about Hoan is that he served this long term as a Socialist. This might sound alarming to conservatives, but actually Hoan's administration was distinguished from the Republican or Democratic variety only by being better. Milwaukee under Hoan rivaled Cincinnati in its boast of being the best-run big city in the United States.

True beauty is usually more than film-deep.

WISCONSIN FOR MACARTHUR

Could MacArthur furnish the leadership and moral courage required to put back together the jigsaw puzzle into which the Republican party is disintegrating?

Could he unite the various factions into which years of New Deal strategy and propaganda have divided the party's best known men?

If he cannot, is there anybody on the horizon who can? And if there is not, are we heading for continued political degeneracy and bickering? Both major political parties have thrown over the great majority of conservative voters to get into the Henry Wallace race for a few million minorities.

It appears certain, as the time approaches for the earliest presidential primary—that of Wisconsin, April 6—that MacArthur's sombrero will be in the lariat loop. I have heard from a source close to the General that he may be expected "to clarify his stand just before the Wisconsin primary."

Writing from Wisconsin, this informant says, "We are pleased with the outlook here against the field. By winning here the general will be a very likely dark horse in the convention next June."

We endure our third year of peace we are witnessing a political phenomenon in which the people are moving steadily toward conservatism while most of their best known leaders, including the President, move leftward, or rather, cater to the radical left wing in certain highly dangerous class legislation offerings—a "civil rights" program at home and a four-year plan abroad.

Something-for-Nothing School

A midwestern attorney and civic leader has become so concerned over the rapid decline of American unity and leadership he has appealed to MacArthur to return and rescue the country.

The internal condition of our country," he wrote, "is perhaps more critical than when you were called upon to repel the Japs."

"Today every American is working in involuntary servitude from thirty to sixty days out of the year to pay the tax burden imposed upon him to aid foreign nations, despite the fact that decades of experience have taught us these nations will turn against their benefactor as soon as they are built up."

More critical still is the fact that American citizens have become so confused through anti-American propaganda fed them every hour of the day, on the air, through the movies, in the magazines, the schools . . . as to cause the citizens to become indifferent and apathetic to the threats surrounding their national existence.

"The result of the policies and philosophies of give, spend and waste of the past decade has been to lower the moral fibre of the nation, and it is reflected in the prevalent practice of trying to get something for nothing."

"Every propaganda effort is being directed toward breaking down the citizens pride in his country and destroying his respect for traditional American concepts of duty and Americanism."

"Corruption, greed and materialism have invaded the government, yes, even the religion of our land. Fairness—the kind of patriotism which puts nation before self, without which no people can long survive—has become far too rare in public life."

"We are threatened with a wholesale breakdown of our institutions at the hands of traitors and Communists in key places throughout the government. I am sure, are willing to place their trust in you as the leader who can restore decency and honor to the human race and offer an intelligent solution to the confusion into which we are being driven."

More from the Kids
By FRANK TRIPP

I should have known better than write that column about "the little darlings." Next to getting on a sucker list, nothing is sure to bring big mail with less usable content.

An old bird who has been hearing from readers since Peary discovered the North Pole should have reckoned on an avalanche once he opened the topic of kids' cute sayings.

Some of the offerings are about as cute as the preamble to a will. Still others do rate and at the risk of printing one that was snatched from another writer, here goes. Anyway, remember that proud parents can be forgiven if they steal for their children. They write me:

Tommy came in from riding down hill with his little girl friend Kathleen. He caught his budding big sister putting on her war paint for a date. Much interested, he stayed for the whole operation.

"What big sis was adjusting her bra, Tommy got inquisitive."

"Will Kathleen have those things when she grows up?" Tommy asked.

"I expect she will," replied big sister.

"Hully gee," exclaimed Tommy, "How's she going to belly-slam?"

A new lawn was being made next door to where wee Toby lived. Every time he stepped outdoors he was warned to keep off it. The poor kid was nagged to distraction.

One day he rang the door bell of the owner of the sacred plot. When she came to the door Toby said:

"Mrs. Purdy, there's a robin on your lawn."

Christmas day was over. Our kids were cranky. Their mothers were packing their loot in big clothes baskets brought from the basement. Anna was guarding the kitchen sink and I was in the driveway with a shot gun lest they walked off with some precious bottles that came my way—and didn't contain hair tonic.

Seven-year-old Teddy was taking home more gadgets than Woodrow when he started in business. But all day he had heard the grownups' insincere prattle that they hadn't done much for Christmas this year.

As he left, Teddy threw his arms around his grandmother's neck and said:

"Nanna, I'm awful sorry for you."

"Why are you sorry for me, Teddy?"

"Cause you couldn't give me more for Christmas. Maybe you can do better next year."

This one came postage due, and was worth it.

To his last impatient demand the harassed mother told him:

"George, I simply cannot come out now. I will when I can. I've got to nurse your baby brother first."

To which George replied:

"Aw, come on out now. He ain't plugged in yet."

Young Actor Missing

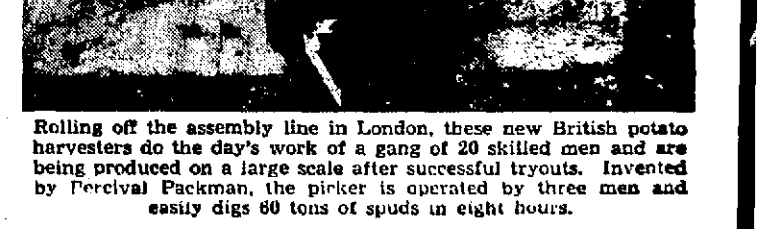

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Nine-year-old James Grimes' professional pride—among other things—was hurt when his mother paddled him for playing hockey from school. So the Negro boy actor ran away from home. The mother, Mrs. Margaret Grimes, told police yesterday her son had been missing since Thursday, just after the spanking. She said James, who has a role in the Broadway show, "Finian's Rainbow," warned her: "You cannot strike an actor."

Celebrated Negro Soprano Will Be Final Concert Artist of Current Community Concert Series

DOROTHY MAYNOR

Dorothy Maynor, celebrated Negro soprano, will appear in the final concert of the Kingston Community Association's current series, Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. in Kingston High School. Admission is by membership card only.

Born in Norfolk, Va., Dorothy Maynor grew up in the parish of a Methodist vicarage where with her brother, tenor, and sister, organist, the children composed the choir for the church. At 14 she entered Hampton Institute to prepare for the career in home economics, and joined the Hampton choir. She was chosen to accompany a group of 40 students on tour in the United States and later Europe.

Dr. Nathaniel Dett, Hampton choir director, convinced her to change her major to music and with the help of Dean Harriet Curtis she was awarded a scholarship at Westminster Choir School, Princeton, N. J., where she studied conducting and choir music under Dr. John Finley Williamson.

The next three years were devoted to intensive studies of language, concert and opera singing with Wilfred Flamroh, and conducted the choir of the Nazareth Congregation Church in Brooklyn. Through a music patron and personal friend, Koussevitzky was persuaded to hear her sing. So impressed by her glorious voice, he exclaimed, "The world must hear this voice!"

A week later she made her debut at Town Hall and during the next season sang with the New York Philharmonic, Boston Symphony, Philadelphia Symphony and Chicago Symphony. She then embarked on five transcontinental tours totaling 300 concerts. She has been re-engaged repeatedly each summer for the Watergate Series, the Lewisohn Stadium, Hollywood Bowl, Grant Park and Robin Hood Dell.

Robert St. John To Speak Monday In New Paltz Series

The world-famous author, foreign correspondent, and news analyst, Robert St. John, will speak in New Paltz at the Teachers' College, Monday evening, Mr. St. John's talk on "Peace or Chaos" will be the fourth program in the current New Paltz Artist Series.

Mr. St. John has received wide recognition for his distinguished reporting of World War 2 direct from many of the various fronts and scenes of action. He saw the partition of Rumania, the entrance of Nazi troops into Bucharest and then into Bulgaria, the fall of Yugoslavia, the bombing of Belgrade, the fall of Greece and Crete, the drive into the Middle East, and the bombing of Britain. Mr. St. John's first book, "From the Land of the Silent People," is a story of the four terrible weeks which followed his flight from Belgrade. He spent the major part of 1947 revisiting many of the countries he covered as a war correspondent. Avoiding the big cities, he roamed about the countryside, settled down in small villages where he could really get to know how the people in each of the countries he visited felt about the world today. He spent many months in Yugoslavia and Hungary behind the so-called Iron Curtain. He lived in obscure Greek villages. The first-hand observations he made and the interpretation of international politics in the Balkans assert that the book is an important one for Americans to know because it presents a first-hand account of life in one of Europe's chief trouble spots.

The final program of this year's New Paltz Artist Series will be a concert April 13 by the New Paltz College-Community Symphony with Alice Smiley as violin soloist.

Higher Milk Prices Filed

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—A formal request for higher spring milk prices has been filed with the U. S. Agriculture Department by the Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency. The agency, which claims to represent half of the dairymen producing for the New York city area, said the only way to assure a sufficient milk supply during the short season was to keep prices up in times of greater production. It seeks $5.68 per hundredweight for April, $5.57 for May and $5.46 for June. A hundredweight of milk is about 47 quarts. The prices refer to Class 1A fluid milk.

New Corsettes Are Out in the Open

New York (NEA)—Last year's concealed corset comes out in the open this spring as a belt.

Ready to do the same job of nipping in a waist as a corset, but prepared to make the performance more glamorous, belts not only belittle a middle but sheathe it with glitter.

Shown here are two shining examples. The belt of gold enposkin, right, which rises to new heights to create fashion's taut and tiny waistline, fakes the look of a corset right down to lacing. The waist-nipping, left, is a glittering bodice belt inspired by medieval designs, clings high to meet this spring's descending necklines. Gray suede is enlivened with spears of silver knit, bejeweled with white rhinestones. (Criterion)

Bonnets Bow to Romance

By EPHIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

New York (NEA)—"Hats for a girl to propose in" is the way one milliner describes his leap-year creations. This seems to be the designing idea behind many of the bonnets heading into spring. Carrying an sentimental appeal as a Valentine, new hats depend largely for effects upon lace, fragile veils, delicate tints, flower and ribbon fancies, and veils that bow back into style. One of white plique, shown in the Peg Fischer design at upper left, is lined with stitched black tulle and sports a brim flange of luscious-colored velvet ribbon. Heavy black mesh makes a veil drape around the sailor and ties under the lady's chin. Example of the gay little ribbon-on-flower hat, the sole aim of which is to captivate, is seen in the Sally Victor design, upper right. For this one, green and white-striped silk ribbon and yellow buttercups weave their witchery.

Magic in A Scarf

New York (NEA) — Designers who pull scarf tricks out of their sleeves this spring out-do the magicians by creating scarves which add drama to a dress.

A splendid example is the scarf which doubles as a turban, a floating stole and the Victorian-revived shawl.

fringes the shawl with jet. This trimming is also used to outline the neckline and armholes of the sleeveless dress with which the shawl is worn.

The stole, which helps dramatize spring prints, often sports the new lingerie look of ruffles or lace. From the patio-type of dress, right, of black and white polka-dotted crepe, floats a long matching stole edged with scallops of black lace. The lace motif is repeated at the bare-shouldered top and at the hemline of the dress.

The scarf which doubles as a turban is designer Herbert Sondheim's gift to the girl who likes to try new tricks. Star of the ensemble, left, featuring a black jersey middie and a pleated skirt of pink and black polka-dotted crepe, is a matching print scarf with a cut-out circle through which a girl can thrust her face and turban her head.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

A letter from a teacher tells me: "From time to time your column suggests a woman sign her letters 'A. B. Smith' when she imagines that if she signs 'Alice Smith,' people will start calling her by her first name. I thought you might be interested in what I do, which I think is business-like—when sending cards and notes to my pupils. I hope, of course, you will think it is in good taste. I sign 'Mrs. Smith' in quotations just that way."

For the reason that you give, I think your signature to your pupils can be considered good taste because it solves your problem. I agree with you that "A. B. Smith" sounds like a business communication and while "Mrs." prefixed to a signature is definitely wrong, putting it in quotations—indicating that this is what they call you—would be quite all right. Perhaps you might sign friendly personal letters, "Your Mrs. Smith."

Seating of Wedding Guests

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is to be married soon. My wife still is wondering about seating the guests in the church. You have said that the family and friends of the bride sit on one side of the church and the family and friends of the bridegroom on the other. In our case, our relatives are few and our friends live at so far a distance to come, where the bridegroom's guest list is very long. Do you think it would look better to seat some of his friends on our side or is this suggestion out of order?

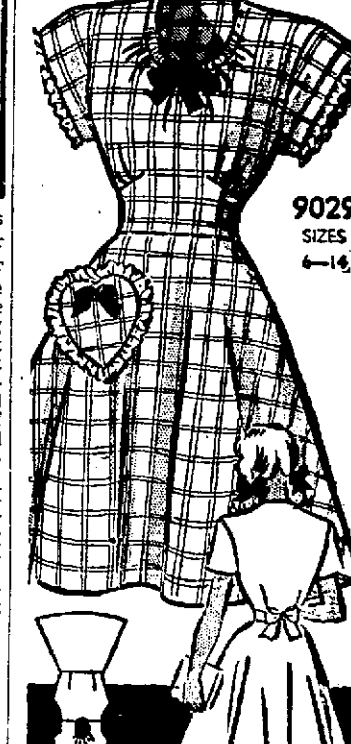

Your suggestion is entirely correct. Your family would occupy as many pews as they require and the bridegroom's friends then would be given all of those left over. In this way, many of them would be given better seats than they could have had otherwise.

Dear Mrs. Post: How shall I introduce my wife's niece, 16, recently orphaned and now come to live with us? I cannot say, "This is my niece" or even "our niece," but yet when I say "this is Betty's niece," it sounds as though I want to disavow a relationship.

Answer: Of course she is "our" niece. It would be heartlessly cruel to call her anything else. (I hope she calls you "Uncle.")

Mrs. Post's booklet, "Table Service," No. 504, explains how to make and fold napkins. Place the flat silver and arrange the flowers. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Sunspot Decline Good, Bad News For Radio World

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Sunspots will be on the decline for awhile, says the Bureau of Standards and that means more fun for radio fans.

However, life won't be so happy for radio's amateur "hams," because sunspots help instead of hinder them.

And, commercial radio communications systems, aircraft and army radio operators will have to switch bands. They usually employ high-frequency bands for world-wide communication, but now will have to use the alternate lower-frequency ones.

Sunspots, or whirlwinds on the sun's surface, are pains in the neck to ordinary radio listeners for this reason:

When the spots are numerous, they cause "magnetic storms" in the atmosphere, resulting in radio fadeouts.

On the other hand, the radio "ham" and other users of high frequency waves feel kindly toward sunspots because they help provide a good reflecting layer in the sky for high frequency radio waves.

Sunspot activity occurs in cycles of about 11 years. That is, at some point during the 11 years, the number of spots reaches a maximum, then the number starts declining until a new cycle starts. The reason for this cyclic activity is not known.

Bureau of Standards scientists said today that the "peak" in the present 11-year cycle was reached last May—when the number of spots was the greatest "in recorded history."

Last year was the fourth year in the current cycle, which means that the decline will continue for about seven years.

At the beginning of the year I gave you a list of safety plays. Today's hand embodies one.

In regard to the bidding, I am sure that even though West was vulnerable many good players would prefer to make a pre-emptive bid of three spades with that hand. Three spades would go down one trick, but it might keep North and South from getting to a contract of four hearts.

However, the bidding shown was the way it occurred when I saw the hand played by Maynard Adams of Chicago, a contestant in Chicago this week.

Adams (South) won the opening lead of the king of spades with his ace. Now he did not make the mistake of going over to dummy to take the heart finesse. When you have five to the ace-queen opposite three small, you should not take a first-round finesse. Adams wasted no time in laying down one trick, but it might keep North and South from getting to a contract of four hearts.

The point is that missing the king-jack-ten-nine, it is pretty hard to keep from losing two tricks, but you do not want to lose three. The lead of the ace eliminates the possibility of the black king winning.

Adams next played the ten of clubs. He took the finesse, East refused to win, so the nine of clubs was led. East won this trick with the king, returned the six of diamonds, and as Adams did not want to lose his ace of diamonds entry into dummy, he went up with the king.

The three of clubs was led to dummy's jack and the ace of clubs played. East trumped this with the nine of hearts and Adams discarded a diamond. East returned the five of diamonds which dummy won with ace. Now the queen of clubs was led, East trumped with the ten of hearts and Adams discarded his jack of diamonds. When East returned his last diamond, Adams trumped with the deuce of hearts and laid down the heart queen, picking up East's jack.

Of course the twelfth and thirteenth tricks were won with the four and five of spades. Thus by the safety play Adams limited his losses to two hearts and a club.

Senior Play Dates

Due to the illness of several members of the Senior Class play, "Fog O' My Heart," new dates for the play have been set for March 5, 6 and 7 at the school auditorium. The date of Monday, March 8, was chosen to accommodate the opening session of the Bard Plan for Small Business, Thursday, March 4, at the auditorium. Commitment for the Bard Plan was made in November by the Board of Education. The play was originally scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week and tickets are now being exchanged for reserved seats for the new dates.

To Keep Up Seaway Fight

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Senate backers of the St. Lawrence Seaway project vowed today "to carry on the fight" despite their third defeat in 14 years. After more than a month's debate on the bitterly disputed bill, the Senate voted yesterday 57 to 39 to send it back to the Foreign Relations Committee for further study. The bill provided that the St. Lawrence river be made navigable to ocean-going shipping to connect the Great Lakes with the Atlantic. It also proposed setting up a 2,200,000 horsepower hydro-electric plant at Massena, N. Y. The United States and Canada were to split the costs, with the American share estimated at $500,000,000.

Will Lease Airfield

Riverhead, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—An aviation engineer will lease the former Army air field at West-hampton Beach for servicing and repairing transatlantic planes, the Suffolk County Board of Supervisors announced yesterday. The ten-year lease to Walter McGinty, of Stony Brook, N. Y., must be approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administration and War Assets Administration, the board said. Under the lease, McGinty, who was formerly with the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, will pay Suffolk county $12,000 a year.
